Wind Direction is indicated in terms of degrees from true north (360°). Wind Direction indicates the compass direction from which the wind is blowing. In other words, if the wind direction is 180°, the wind is from the south (blowing towards the north); if the wind direction is 315°, the wind is from the Northwest (blowing towards the Southeast).